

ACTIVITIES FOR SOCIAL EMOTIONAL HOME LEARNING

Try and do at least one activity from each column this week

THIS WEEK WE ARE WORKING ON

~SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY~

Contributing to Community & Caring for the Environment	Solving Problems in Peaceful Ways	Valuing Diversity	Building Relationships
As a family, talk about all the helpers who are working to keep people safe. Then make some paper hearts or thank you notes to hang in the windows for them.	Petals of Peace Use the flower poster & template to work through conflicts peacefully.	Same & Different -Take thumb prints of yourself & get your families prints too -Use a magnifying glass to compare: what is the same? What is different?	Meeting Someone New I smile and make eye contact. I say hi! And share my name. I listen for their name. I say it back to them. I say, it's nice to meet you! Listening:
Learn together about how bees and plants help the Earth, and then help your child to plant some flowers (outside if possible, or else in a pot inside).	LEGO Sharing Challenge Boards Use these LEGO sharing boards together as a family.	Initiating Play Phone or schedule a zoom or virtual play-date with a friend.	Greeting Friends When I see a friend approach, I wave I say "hi" and then the person's name. I use a normal voice. I look at the person's face. I know I can greet family and friends in a different way. Greeting:
Send someone a hug. Have your child lie down and spread their arms. Trace their arms on a long piece of paper, such as wrapping paper. Cut it out, color it, and mail it. See link here	Being Assertive: Cool, Calm and Confident	Classroom expectations Draw a tree. On each branch, write out what you think the class rules (or "norms") are in your new virtual class. Compare with a peer	Joining a Group I ask, "May I join you?" I use a normal voice. I talk after the person is done talking. I talk about the same topic. I talk to everyone in the group. How to:
Plan a vegetarian meal or a salad to have with	Storyline Online – character development	Help someone	Playing with Friends
